DEAN R. HAEN

DIRECTOR

ANOTHER GOOD MONTH KEEPS PORT ON TRACK

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

June 17, 2015

(Green Bay, WI) – Thanks to strong shipments of cement, coal and salt, the Port of Green Bay's tonnage numbers for May were positive, putting year to date totals 23 percent ahead of last year's pace.

"The Port also saw a big increase in domestic exports of petroleum products such as diesel, gasoline and ethanol, which is a new occurrence for us," said Dean Haen, director for the Port of Green Bay. "This is exactly what the Port needs to meet or exceed 2014 tonnage numbers, which were our highest numbers since 2007."

A total of 24 ships came through the Port in May, the same number as in 2014.

Haen says he's pleased with the first few months of the shipping season. "It's still early and we are seeing a healthy amount of traffic which means the demand for raw materials is strong," said Haen. "Transporting cargo through the Port shows that using waterborne transportation continues to be a valuable asset to businesses."

The Port of Green Bay has 15 active terminal operators involved in shipping commodities including:
